

The Wagoner County Conservation District will hold its annual Informational Meeting Thursday, Nov. 7 at 6 p.m. at the Wagoner Civic Center, 301 S. Grant. Guest speakers for the evening will be Jake Boyett, soil scientist with the Natural Resources Conservation Service, and Amy Seiger, soil health coordinator with the Oklahoma Conservation Commission. Their main topics of discussion will be soil health and pollinators. District Manager Rhonda D. Bowman said information will also be shared regarding Farm Bill programs. Dinner will be provided. Community residents are invited to attend. for more information or to register, call Bowman at 918-485-4747, ext. 3 or send an email to wagonerccd@conservation.ok.gov. Deadline to register is Monday, Nov. 4. Be the first to know Get local news delivered to your inbox!

Sign up! * I understand and agree that registration on or use of this site constitutes agreement to its user agreement and privacy policy.